ANNA RIPLEY WEDS THE COUNT CASTEL

International Marriage Performed At the Crossways, Hempstead, Long Island, Today.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
New York, Oct. 15.—A special train conveyed the guests from this city to Hempstead, L. I., for the wedding of Miss Anna Ripley and Count Pierre de Castel of Paris. The ceremony took place at The Crossways, the country estate of the bride's mother, Mrs. Sidney Dillon Ripley.

Lord Lovat Takes A Bride.

London, Oct. 15.—Quite the most fashionable wedding of the season so far was that of today in which Miss Laura Lovat, youngest daughter of Lord Kibblesdale and a niece of Prince Minkster Asquith, became the bride of Lord Lovat, the chief of the ancient and important Scottish clan of Fraser. The ceremony was performed at St. Margaret's, Westminster, and was followed by a large reception at the Downing street home of Prime Minister Asquith.

BYRON ANDREWS DIES SUDDENLY

PASSED AWAY AT HIS MOTHER'S HOME IN EVANSVILLE THIS MORNING.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Evansville, Oct. 15.—Byron Andrews, former owner and editor of the National Tribune, died suddenly this morning at his mother's home in Evansville.

Was Owner and Editor of the National Tribune of Washington For Many Years.

Byron Andrews was born in a log cabin in Argyle township in La Fayette county on Oct. 25, 1852. His father, John C. Andrews, had come to Wisconsin from Ohio, his native state, and his mother, Sarah Rice, was of English descent. When sixteen he came to Evansville and entered the Evansville Seminary, graduating from that institution in 1871. He then entered Harvard College, at Geneva, New York state and graduated there with the class of 1875.

He immediately entered upon newspaper work in Chicago becoming a member of the staff of the Chicagoer. He later went to Washington to become the Washington correspondent and 1881 accompanied General Grant on his famous trip to Mexico. In the double capacity of correspondent for the Chicagoer and as the General's private secretary.

Later he became editor of the National Tribune of Washington and moved to New York, returning to Washington, D. C., a few years later upon becoming proprietor of this publication. He continued in active management of the paper until a few years ago, when he disposed of his interest to devote his time to literary work. His collection, "Americana," is considered one of the finest in the United States and it is understood will become a part of the Wisconsin Historical collection. Mr. Andrews being a life member of this society.

Mr. Andrews was an intimate friend of the late John A. Logan and one of his best works published is the life of this martyred president. He was also an intimate friend of Theodore Roosevelt and published a republican campaign book for him during his campaign for President.

Mr. Andrews was married twenty-two years ago to Miss Belle Fiske, of Covington, Ky., a daughter of former Governor Fiske of Kentucky. The widow, his aged mother, two sisters, Miss Marilla Andrews, postmistress of this city and Miss Emma Andrews of Evansville and two brothers, Jerome of the state of Washington and Cassian of Maryland survive him. The funeral will be held on Monday next at four in the afternoon, at the Episcopal church, reading the church service while the Masonic orders will otherwise have charge of the funeral. The remains will be taken to Covington, Ky., for burial on the evening train Monday, interment being made Tuesday.

CLARENCE DIETZ VISITS MILWAUKEE

STANLEY KETCHEL SHOT THRO' LUNG

Middleweight Champion Pugilist in Dangerous Condition From Wound at Ranch Near Conway, Mo.

(BY UNITED PRESS.)

Springfield, Mo., Oct. 15.—Stanley Ketchel, champion middleweight pugilist was shot and probably fatally wounded on the ranch of R. P. Dickerson five miles north of Conway, Missouri this morning.

Ketchel was shot with a 22 calibre rifle by one of the ranch employes, the bullet passing through his right lung. The man escaped but blood hounds will be put on the trail.

Mr. Dickerson, at whose home Ketchel was visiting, was in Springfield when he heard the news. With a physician he left on a special train for Conway, forty miles distant at nine o'clock this morning. The wounded man may be brought to the hospital here.

The details of the shooting are difficult to obtain as no one was present except Ketchel and Walter A. Hurtz, who did the shooting.

It seems the two men had some words last night and this morning Ketchel was at breakfast. Hurtz entered and pointing the rifle at Ketchel ordered him to hold up his hands.

He arose, turned toward his assailant and Hurtz fired. The bullet struck Ketchel in the right shoulder-blade, ranged upward and entered the right lung.

Ketchel fell and a moment later Charles Dalley, superintendent of the ranch, rushed in. Ketchel related the brief details and relapsed into unconsciousness. Hurtz in the meantime disappeared.

Ketchel is still unconscious and the physicians think he will die.

Fall Meeting of Maryland Jockey Club Will be in Progress Till the End of the Month.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 15.—The fall meeting of the Maryland Jockey Club began at the Pimlico Track today and will continue until the end of October. An attractive program of stake events and the presence of many fast horses that have been making the circuit in this country and Canada this summer combine to give promise of a highly successful meeting.

BRYAN ENTERS THE INDIANA CAMPAIGN

Begins at Indianapolis a Five Days' Speech-Making Tour in Behalf of State Ticket.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 15.—William J. Bryan came into Indiana today and began a five day's speech-making tour in behalf of the Democratic State Ticket. He is expected to speak in behalf of township and city option, which the Democrats are making the chief issue of their campaign. The coming of Mr. Bryan this time is particularly gratifying to the friends of John W. Kern, Mr. Bryan's running mate in the national campaign of two years ago, and now the choice of United States Senator from Indiana. Mr. Bryan's speeches throughout the state will, in the opinion of the democrats, offset in a large measure the effect of Colonel Roosevelt's speeches here this week in behalf of Senator Hovard's candidacy for re-election.

Philadelphia, Oct. 15.—The climax of the professional baseball season is at hand. The series for the world's championship between the Chicago, the premier club of the National league and the Philadelphia, winners of this year's pennant in the American league will begin Monday afternoon in this city. Nearly the entire week the two leading teams of the country will be engaged in a nerve-racking struggle, the games being equally divided between this city and the Western Metropolis.

The series will be played off in the following manner: First game, Monday at Philadelphia; second game, Tuesday at Philadelphia; third game, Thursday at Chicago; fourth game, Friday at Chicago. In case other games are required to settle the supremacy a fifth game will be played Saturday, after a hurried run in a special train from Chicago to Philadelphia, and in case another game is required another fast run in a special train will be made from Philadelphia to Chicago in time to play the sixth game in the Windy City on Sunday. If the series should not be completed by this time the place of playing the seventh game will be determined by the toss of a coin.

Probably no series that has ever been played in baseball will attract the attention this one will, and probably an entire week's watching, waiting, will equal it in attendance. As to what the series will bring forth the cranks and the partisans have been kept up to a high pitch trying to convince themselves and others why their favorite team should win.

An interesting and important feature in connection with the series this year is the fact that it is a meeting of a team of veterans who have won four league pennants and two world's championships in five years, and a team of youngsters and veterans who, under the masterful guidance of one of the cleverest leaders the game has ever produced, have been developed into a pennant winner in two years.

The Philadelphia's this year are practically a new team to the one which brought the league pennant to this city five years ago. The infield contains only one veteran, Harry Davis, who was on the team in 1905, while the outfield is a mixture of veterans and youngsters. The battery department, which is almost sure to play a principal part in deciding the world's series, is almost entirely new.

In contrast to the Athletics the Chicago's represent practically the same team that has represented the Windy City in the National league in the past five years and which has won four league pennants and two world's championships in that period.

The players of the two contesting clubs will have a mighty juicy financial melon to slice after the conclusion of the series. It is predicted that nearly $100,000 may be divided among the forty-six players who are eligible to share in the receipts. As proof of the marvelous strides that the national game has made in popular favor it is only necessary to recall the fact that in the world's series in 1884, when the Providence team of the National league and the Metropolitans of the American Association played for the flag, the total attendance was less than five thousand and the Providence team received less than $1,000 for winning the series.

TAFT OUTLINES THE MESSAGE PLANNED

President Will Have Many Things to Advise Congress of When It Convenes.

Beverly, Mass., Oct. 15.—Next session of Congress promises to be a busy one. If the points recommended by President Taft in his annual message are observed and much more, it has been learned the following will be incorporated in the annual message.

Efforts made to promote the economical administration of the government business will be emphasized in the message.

The message will recommend that Congress pass a law that will permit the development of water power on public lands by private capital but that the government shall keep a restraining hand on the concessions in order to prevent extortion or monopoly.

Another hard conservation problem concerns the disposition of the disposal of the Alaska coal deposits and other problems remain.

Congress disposed of one phase of the coal question but the disposition of the Alaska coal deposits and other problems remain.

Two propositions that have heretofore been strongly urged upon Congress by the president—an amendment of the Sherman anti-trust law and federal charters for corporations.

The proposed amendment to the Sherman law would permit railroads to enter into limited agreements as to rates, subject to the approval of the interstate commerce commission.

Taft believed that the granting of federal charters to large corporations would give the government direct control.

Great progress will be reported by the message in the work on the Panama Canal and its immediate fortification will be recommended.

Congress will be urged to adopt some measures for the improvement of the declining merchant marine.

Senators and representatives will be asked to consider the question of surrounding their privilege of making certain appointments in order that more government employees may be placed on the civil service roll.

Other suggestions in the bill will include a new form of government for Alaska, strengthening the anti-trust laws; a law governing the liability of injunctions without notice and currency reform.

There is an elegance about an Arneson suit that you cannot find in any other.

This is due in part to the unusually nobby All-Wool fabrics and the great care put into the tailoring.

The models, too, are the very latest and have all been received from the fashion centers.

This is a combination that is hard to equal, let alone surpass. See them for yourself and be convinced that Arneson suits are beyond comparison. Popular prices, too, from $14.00 up.

MISS CORA MORENA

AND THE ENTIRE ORIGINAL CAST

Direct from its successful run at the

A RARE TREAT.

(Reprint from a Davenport paper.) An enthusiastic audience, representative of the German element of the city, including not a few Americans, greeted Miss Cora Morena, the Viennese beauty, at the Burlesque evening in the sensational laughing comedy, "Alma Wo Wohnst Du?" (Alma, Where Do You Live?). All the good words that have been said of Miss Morena as a singer, can never do her full justice. She is without question one of the sweetest and most powerful vocalists heard in Davenport for many a day and the audience fairly went wild over both her singing and acting. She was given excellent support and the performance will long be remembered as a genuine treat by all who witnessed it.

To those appreciating the best in German comedy, The Democrat does not hesitate to give its unqualified endorsement to this production. It is good enough to see twice, and a half a dozen times for that matter, and too good to miss altogether. It will be repeated at the Burlesque tonight.

Claims and Realities

It is a fact known to every newspaper reader that nearly all piano advertisements make practically the same claims.

No more can be said for the instrument of artistic merit than is said daily for many pianos of mediocre or inferior quality.

If the statements with which the merits of many low grade pianos are exploited were true there would be no sense in paying the price asked for those of reputation and demonstrated value.

But every person of intelligence knows that there is a difference in the musical and constructive qualities of various instruments. For that reason, whatever may be the reputation, one cannot expect to get a fine piano at a price which would be fair for one of ordinary merit, although in any case the buyer should get his money's worth.

In justice to our patrons we draw the distinction very closely between the different grades. We have high priced pianos and also pianos marked at very moderate figures.

Each of these is represented for exactly what it is and it is marked at no more than its actual value.

We invite prospective purchasers to visit our new salesrooms and satisfy themselves of the values we offer.

COOK STOVE

Pays For Itself In What It Saves

The "Caloric" cookstove is such a great improvement over the old method of cooking that you really must use one in your own home to fully appreciate its many advantages. It has reduced the cost of living in thousands upon thousands of homes and has made woman's work easier and her life more pleasant every day in the week throughout the year. In the first place there is a saving of time. With a "Caloric" all you need do is prepare and season the foods; place them in the cooking compartments and you may then go calling, shopping or devote yourself to other household duties. Absolutely no further attention is required until you are ready to serve the meal. Surely this alone is well worth the price of Tacoma Jury Votes True Bills in New Alaska Charges.

Washington, Oct. 15.—On the charge that outlaws were made in the names of dummies on the English or Stracey and Christopher Simmonds groups of claims in Alaska which figured in the Hallinger-McCot investigation and which are said to be as rich in coal as the Cunningham mines the following men were indicted in the United States district court at Tacoma, Wash.: C. F. Munday, A. H. Stracey, Archie W. Mifflin, E. E. Seligson, Cornelius Christopher, George Simmonds, Mortimer C. Swenson.

Munday, Simmonds and Christopher, all prominent Seattle men, were arrested and released on bonds of $2,500 each.

SHERMAN TO STUMP NEW YORK
Vice-President to Speak for Stimson at Albany—Root Also.

New York, Oct. 15.—Vice-President Sherman will take the stump for the Republican state ticket nominated by the Saratoga convention, which declined to accept him as its temporary chairman.

It was announced at Republican state headquarters that Mr. Sherman has promised to speak on the same platform with Henry L. Stimson, the candidate for governor, at Albany on the night of November 3.

Senator Root also will speak for the ticket.

AGED MAN IS LURED TO DEATH.

Junk Dealer Is Slain by Thugs for His Money Belt.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—Morris Lipschultz, an aged junk dealer, who for years had lived at 1101 South Hermitage avenue, and was reputed to carry a fortune in a money belt about his waist, was lured into a vacant barn at the rear of 2011 Michigan avenue by three negroes and was so severely beaten that he died several hours later.

Robbery was the motive for the attack, but seven dollars was all the murderers found when they searched the clothing of the victim.

LA POLLETTE IS ON THE GAIN.

Wife of Senator Says He May Leave Hospital Within Week.

Rochester, Minn., Oct. 15.—Senator Robert M. La Follette is well on the road to rapid recovery, his condition being the best it has been at any time since his operation. The drainage tube, which has bothered him since, was removed and there is nothing to impede the healing of the wound. Mrs. La Follette stated that she thought it would be a week before the senator would leave the hospital.

Washington, D. C.—It is now definitely understood that among the possibilities being considered by President Taft for appointment to the United States Supreme Court are two Chicago attorneys who have won fame and distinction—Walter L. Fisher and Horace Kent Tenney.

Moody on November 20 another vacancy will occur, which will give the President the most unusual opportunity of recasting the supreme court. It is expected he will give one of these appointments to a middle western lawyer and among those most frequently suggested are the two above named.

SHALL JANESVILLE LIGHT UP?

During the last few weeks a systematic canvass of the downtown merchants shows an unanimous verdict to the effect that good electric street lighting would do these three things for Janesville:

FIRST—Every property owner who lends his aid towards getting these new ELECTRIC LIGHT POSTS placed along his frontage will actually have his property increase in value.

SECOND—Every business man who conducts a store along a street lighted with these new ELECTRIC LIGHT POSTS will realize great benefits, and a noticeable increase in business.

THIRD—Buyers of property reason that a store located in a progressive, well lighted street must necessarily carry an up-to-date stock of goods.

We Will Give You a Lot In the Best Residence Addition to Superior, Wisconsin

Now Being Platted.

For The Most Appropriate Name Suggested For This Addition By Oct. 20, 1910.

It consists of 65 acres located in the very heart of Superior, just 3 minutes from the center of the business section near a beautiful drive way along St. Louis Bay.

It will have street car facilities.

It is level, high and dry.

It has a natural wooded area with beautiful evergreens and birches.

It will have handsome parks and playgrounds, graded streets, water and perfect drainage.

It will have building restrictions and parked avenues, in fact, "an addition of character."

We want an appropriate name for this beautiful addition badly and will give a warranty deed, with perfect title, for any lot in the addition, to the person suggesting what in our opinion is the best name for the plat, before October 20, 1910.

We will put these lots on the market about November 1st at very low prices on easy terms. They will be in great demand, and will increase very rapidly in value. You will be fortunate, indeed, if you are able to secure one or more of them.

Sixty Million Dollars of substantial improvements are now under way, and in sight for Superior, including the U. S. Steel Co.'s Belt Line and Mammoth Plant, American Locomotive Co.'s Plant, Pressed Steel Car Works of America.

The best geographical location for a metropolitan city on the North American Continent at the extreme Western Terminus of traffic on the Great Lakes.

The finest natural harbor in the world.

More tonnage handled in Superior harbor today than any port in the world.

The population of Superior will double in two years.

Just like buying lots in the heart of Chicago before the war.

Send in your suggestions. Address

22 Attractive Designs of

1911 CARS

For this reason we have 22 models of the Overlands. They run from $775 to $1075—from 20 to 35 horsepower.

This gives us a range to meet every requirement—every idea on price and style and power. Every motor car buyer, whatever his wants, can meet them in the Overland at a lower cost than any where else in the world.

They are made with the planetary transmission for the many who like the utter simplicity of the pedal control. But, there are sliding gears for those who prefer them.

On every model there is double ignition—magneto and battery. On some we supply the Remy Magneto, on some the Bosch. On some Overland models the two ignition systems are entirely independent, requiring eight spark plugs.

Mechanically the cars have been altered but little. The Overland from the start has been about as good a car as men can ever produce. That is why it so quickly won the leading place in motordom.

No line this year, sold at any price, offers more attractive designs than the Overland. It is utterly impossible, whatever one buys, to buy a more classy car.

At the present time we have on hand two demonstrating models of the 1911 Overlands. Model 49, 25 horsepower—102 inch wheelbase. Made with detachable tonneau, with single rumble or double buck seat on back. Chassis for $1,000. Model 45, 20 horsepower—four cylinders—36 inch wheelbase. Made only in runabout style. Price $775. Call and have a free demonstration. Take a ride. Test them out. You will agree with us that all their points are good.

representing as many different creeds, and with rare exception the things which are tangible, and can be seen, are worshipped more tenaciously than the unseen Deity, to whom these churches are dedicated.

"These churches are accomplishing good, all along the line, in spite of the narrowness of creed, and the idolatrous worship connected with them, because they are a unit in teaching morality and a better way to live, but it is not surprising. In the conflict of ideas and the tenacity of dogmas, that men sometimes lose interest in the fray and turn their eyes to the world about them so full of mingled joy and sorrow and demanding so much of service and appreciation.

The great Layman's Missionary Movement, which is now absorbing attention all over Christendom, recognized a great truth when it adopted as a slogan: "What we do for humanity must be done in this generation."

This sentiment is coming to be the dominant sentiment in all missionary work, and the principle object is no longer to prepare men for death and the hereafter, but to teach them a better way to live.

"This is a good old world after all, and as time advances the disposition to make it better and happier is steadily developing. The strain of optimism which runs through the little poem indicates good digestion and a mind at peace with itself and all mankind.

Minds and hearts of this kind are a choice heritage in any community, and they abound in larger extent to-day than ever before. People who live in the sunlight and radiate cheerfulness and good cheer. People whose sympathies go out for humanity, and who recognize the fact that flowers mean vastly more for the living than for the dead.

"These are the people who exhaust effort in trying to better conditions and their influence is wholesome and helpful. The best national exponent of this class of people is ex-President Roosevelt, the man who is so intensely alive that worry and ghosts fade away in his presence like a fleeting cloud.

The doctrine which he teaches is sometimes called socialism, but it is the socialism of a common brotherhood, inspired by a heart in sympathy, and the product of a mind which believes in the square deal for everybody.

The nation is in the throes of a moral evolution, and it will emerge from the conflict to a higher plain, and while the changes wrought in the passing may demoralize parties and disturb business, the final outcome will be satisfactory for the heart of the American people has been quickened and common justice, in the end, will prevail.

The viewpoint of life has much to do with the outlook. There are periods during the flood tide when the red blood courses through the veins and every organ of the body responds to the magic touch, and the feet cling to the high places where the sunlight lingers, and the valleys below present a constantly changing panorama.

During these choice years which are never appreciated until they have gone, life is full of activity and pleasure. The home is radiant with the love and laughter of children, and the world seems so bright that the heart would be content if the environment could continue for a thousand years.

This was the outlook which inspired the little poem so full of love and appreciation for the old world which contains so much of joy and sorrow, but there comes a time, later on in the journey, when the life-giving current moves slower, and the hill-tops are not so easy of access.

The home of other years becomes a sacred memory, and the old familiar friends pass on until the ranks are sadly depleted. The world is just as full of life and gladness as ever, but the old actors are no longer on the stage.

This is the period to which every life is drifting with relentless certainty, and there is only one faculty which the ravages of time does not tarnish or enfeeble and that is the heart—the fountain of life.

Mr. S. D. Conant, an old time Janesville man, was calling on friends in the city, a few days ago, enroute from St. Louis to La Crosse, his present home. His face was just as ruddy and his mind just as clear as it was forty years ago. He is what Elbert Hubbard would call a man "ninety years young," close to the verge of time, possessing sublime faith in the future, but intensely interested in helping humanity over the rough places.

And so, all along the journey, are found men and women of all ages who see the bright side of life, and whose ambition is to make the way easier for fellow travelers. "What we do for humanity must be done in this generation."

THE POET PHILOSOPHER

By WALT MASON.

(Copyright, 1909, by George Matthews Adams.)

Father came home sore and sorry from his labors in the mart; came home from the hurly-burly with some workwood in his heart; for the luck had been against him in the war of bonds and stocks, and the other brokers fended him up and pulled him with rocks. So his heart was sad and bitter, mangled by misfortune's pokes; like a wild and savage critter he kept ranting at his folks. And his wife was scared and worried by the smoldering things he said, and the children, frightened, hurried pale and trembling, off to bed.

And poor father roared and ranted, and he kicked at this and that, and he poked the air and panted and he threw things at the cat. He was awful in his dudgeon, and his wife sat weeping there, when she should have got a blacken, or have slugged him with a chair. Oh the wrathful man who rakes in his home, at close of day, fifty kinds of brimstone blazes in a chicken-hearted way; and his wife is weak and drollish if she bends before the storm; she should get a club and polish off his wild, rampancetous form.

Chamberlain's Face.

One of Sir Benjamin Stone's more frequent sitters has been Mr. Chamberlain, who, once speaking of his own portrait, said: "It has been remarked that I bear a resemblance to Pitt. I am afraid that my testimony to this resemblance would have little value. But if it could be alleged that any likeness existed between that great statesman, not bodily or mentally, but in his aspirations, in his desire to be of use to his country, then I should be proud indeed." Perhaps the last photograph ever taken of Mr. Chamberlain was that by Sir Benjamin at the notable fete in Birmingham to celebrate the great statesman's seventieth birthday. At the house of common Mr. Chamberlain was ever ready to help his colleague, and on one occasion volunteered to go and hunt up the reluctant Michael Davitt and bring him to the spot for the purpose.

Sea and Sun in Harness.

It would certainly not be amazing if we should like to see both old ocean and older sun hitched up and working like blazes in harness in team together. The task is not more incredible than the wireless or the telephone. But these two hitched up to work as servants by the day, year and century would tap an inexhaustible, eternal store of working energy at a time when alarm is justly felt beginning to be felt at our steadily fleeing resources. One inventor has an alloy that turns sun heat into electricity. Many have long ago shown that wave and tide powers can be turned into electric energy. Not commercially practical as yet. But, cheer up; never despair.

Are you not glad your baby's future usefulness and content are not thus handicapped?

TWO NEW YORK BROKER FIRMS GO TO THE WALL

Minzeshelmer & Co. Fall With Liabilities of $1,750,000—Other Failure Unimportant.

New York, Oct. 15.—Two failures, which are attributed to the recent advance in the prices of stocks, were announced in Wall street.

The firm of Charles Minzeshelmer & Co., brokers and members of the New York stock exchange, long in existence, has said to have been on the bear side of the market for several months. Its failure represents liabilities of $1,750,000, with assets of about $1,200,000.

The second failure recorded was that of Thomas C. Gaylord, who, following the death of his brother-in-law, John C. Latham, succeeded to the business name of Latham & Alexander, for many years prominent members of the New York cotton exchange. Neither the liabilities nor the assets of this firm could be ascertained from the catalogue, Frank A. Gaynor, but in Wall street the failure was thought to be inconsequential, since the firm had no direct connection with any of the exchanges and was conducting a private banking and brokerage business up to the time of its suspension.

MANUEL MAY VISIT AMERICA.

King Fears He Will Embarrass England by Overstaying Welcome.

Gibraltar, Oct. 15.—In the desire of saving embarrassment to England, King Manuel, deposed ruler of Portugal, may visit the United States.

Manuel has not decided to sail at once, but he will not remain here much longer, as it is brought fresh before him every day that his residence here is only on sufferance.

Manuel, the Queen Mother Amelita, the Duke of Oporto, the Count of Sabugosa, grand master of the Portuguese court, and the Count of Figueira, master of ceremonies of the court, conferred concerning the course of action to be taken.

It was decided King Manuel should lead a quiet life until his health is fully recovered and that meanwhile his friends in Portugal should undertake a vigorous political campaign, in which the supporters of Duke Michael of Braganza, the pretender, will cooperate, to return as many monarchist candidates as is possible at the elections.

If Manuel decides to go to America, he will first leave his manifesto, and this will be given out soon in England.

PAYS $200 FOR A HUSBAND.

Austrian Woman Thanks Her Spouse, Then Says Good-By Forever.

Washington, Oct. 15.—"Good-bye, Mr. Brown, I am very much obliged to you for marrying me. May you have a long and happy life."

These were the farewell words of Miss Eugenie Adams to the husband for whom she had paid $200 that she might go back to her home in Europe and claim the fortune left by a rich uncle on condition she was married by the end of this week.

Harvey O. Brown was selected as the $200 husband. The ceremony was performed by Judge Charles B. Dunphy of the municipal court, after the proper license had been procured and an anti-nuptial agreement signed. Although the bride continued to call herself "Miss Adams," the name on the license clerk's book was "Eugenie Schunacher Sauer of Vienna, Austria."

REID WEDS FORMER ACTRESS.

Tin Plate Magnate Marries Miss Mabel Carlier, After Romance.

New York, Oct. 15.—Daniel G. Reid, organizer of the tin-plate trust, director in some of the greatest corporations in the country and many times a millionaire, has married the beautiful Miss Mabel Carlier, formerly an actress.

Mr. and Mrs. Reid are spending their honeymoon in seclusion at the capitalist's country seat at Irvington. Most of their time is spent in motoring over the beautiful roads in the neighboring country. Mr. Reid modestly refused to divulge the romance of his marriage, but it is said that the engagement was of long standing.

WOMAN HELD AS WIFE OF SIX.

Mrs. Alice Goodwin Arrested in Oklahoma on Bigamy Charge.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—Charged with having six husbands in as many different states, Mrs. Alice Goodwin, forty-five years old, was arrested in Medford, Okla., on information furnished by James E. Young, 3041 North Kedzie avenue, who says he is one of the husbands.

Mrs. Goodwin, as the woman styles herself, fled to the Oklahoma city several days ago in order, it is said, to avoid arrest on the bigamy charge. With her at the time of her arrest was her ten-year-old daughter, Olive Goodwin.

FORMER SENATOR IS INDICTED.

New Yorker is Charged With Attempting to Bribe Public Official.

New York, Oct. 15.—Frank J. Gardner of Brooklyn, a former state senator, who was arrested in Beranton, charged with attempted bribery of Congressman Otto G. Folger, also a former state senator, to vote against the anti-trace track bill in Albany in 1908, was indicted by the New York county grand jury, on the charge of an attempt to bribe a public official.

Unequal Division in Life.

The man who earns the money isn't always the one who gets it.

HE NEVER DONE THAT BEFORE.

FEAR OF NIGHT AIR PASSING

We Are Slowly Learning That It Is Far Healthier to Breathe Than That of Closed Room.

Slowly, far too slowly, we are realizing how dire is the danger we incur every time we sleep in bedrooms with the windows shut close. After all, we ought to feel it a kind of slur on our intelligence and a libel on our healthy, temperate climate that consumptive sanatoria should be considered necessary for this country. It has been established beyond a doubt that fresh air is not only curative, but also preventive of tuberculosis; and surely it would be better to impress this fact deeply upon the minds of the rising generation rather than cram them with pabulum which produces only mental indigestion. The prejudice against the open window is so deep rooted in some country homes that it is only through the children that it will ever be destroyed. Even worse is the prejudice against night air. Many people who ought to know better will contend that night air is dangerous on account of its dampness. One can quite understand that for persons suffering from bronchitis and asthma the cold night air may be dangerous, but for comparatively healthy people, both old and young, cold night air, even if it is slightly damp, is infinitely healthier and safer to breathe throughout the night than the slowly poisoning air of the closed bedroom.

URNS ON ELECTRICITY; DIES.

Ohio Candidate for Judge Is Electrocuted in His Home.

Defiance, O., Oct. 15.—When former Probate Judge John H. Hockman and Democratic candidate for common pleas court went into the bath room of his home to shave he reached up to turn on the electric light. Immediately upon turning the switch he fell to the floor and died 20 minutes later.

The burned fingers of the hand that he stretched to the light indicated electrocution.

Might Deprive Himself.

"I want to give you some advice." "I wish you would charge me for it." "What for?" "So that I could take it or not, according to how I felt."

Mean Thing.

"She has beautiful hair." "Isn't she?" "So fine and glossy." "Yes; that brand always gives such good satisfaction."

Good Idea.

"He doesn't know enough to come in out of the rain." "Then they ought to put him through a waterproofing process."

Held by the Past.

We try to change our mode of life, but find that habit grips us. We plan to be a different man, but habit stily trips us. We map a course on other lines and for success discontinue. Then drop into the same old rut in which we have been running.

Good resolutions be the bane. We bravely put in writing. And, fortified by them, fare forth. Off with the old, on with the new. A promising beginning. But then the old habit looks on. And quite secretly grinding.

It's very easy to sit down. And say heartily, "I'm truly sorry." But it's not thought out duly. That hereafter he will concentrate. And not his forces scatter. But executing them is not. A very simple matter.

The habits of our daily life. Of slow and patient making. Are not so lightly put aside. So easily of breaking. We give us well do thus and so. And be a few times wiser. But drop into the ancient ways. Follow by other sinners.

Humor and Philosophy

BY DUNCAN M. SMITH

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

ONE way to be happy is by failing to find anything worth being miserable over.

A little friendly advice generally costs all it is worth.

Something that we don't know troubles us a whole lot.

It takes an enterprising person to turn up a fresh trouble every day.

Nothing ventured, nothing gained. To the promoter's bank account.

The Standard Oil company ought to get the article region on its list, for there's a lot of money to be made lighting up a single night there.

The mosquito season is over, but slippery sidewalks will soon add to the excitement of life.

The girl who can't sing and won't looks like a gem of purest ray serene beside the one who can't and does.

Gravity may have a lot to do with a man's falling in love, for it frequently makes him grave.

It is a long lane that has no turn, and a dark one that has a crook hiding in it.

If failure is but preliminary to success most of us may be excused for disliking preliminaries.

If you don't take care of the present the past will be getting in its work on you.

You may know more than your boss, but don't let him find it out.

There are some things better than a cheerful disposition, but they don't get a chance at you every day.

Don't be a grinch. There is too much competition for you to hope to be a great success at it.

Good Advice.

"Daughter?" "Yes, pa?" "Never marry a short man." "But Charlie is awfully short." "Don't marry him then." "Why not?" "A short man is always trying to borrow money of his relatives."

Spreading.

Yes, every country has been hit by this insidious light. In darkest India they sit and rubber at the light.

Practical.

"Did he get results from sleeping on the wedding cake?" "Well, yes." "Yes, I am consumed with curiosity."

"He woke up in the night." "And heard voices?" "No, not the voices."

The Gospel.

"She is a medium." "Talks to spirits and things?" "Oh, no." "But I thought you said she is a medium."

"So she is. A circulating medium."

PLANT THRIVES ON FLIES

Little Weed, Grown in England, Helps in Work of Ridding Homes of Pest.

In England there grows a little red, dish-shaped, odd-looking plant known as sundew. It is but an inconspicuous weed, and yet literary and scientific honors have been heaped upon it.

The leaf is round and flat, and is covered by a number of small red glands, which act as the attractive advertisement to the misguided insects. Their knobby ends are covered with a glutinous secretion, which glistens like honey in the sunlight, and so gains for the plant its common English name. But the moment a hapless fly, attracted by hopes of meat or nectar, settles quietly in its midst, on hospitable thoughts intent, the viscid liquid holds him tight immediately, and clings his legs and wings, so that he is secured exactly as a sparrow is snared in birdlime.

Then the leaf closes over him slowly but surely, and crushes him by folding its edges inward gradually toward the center. The fly often struggles long with ineffectual struggles, while the cruel, crawling leaf pours forth a digestive fluid—a vegetable gastric juice, as it were—and dissolves him alive piecemeal.

Scarcity of Timber.

Wood is becoming scarcer and dearer every year. As population increases we shall be obliged to use more acreage in its sustenance. The trees will be planted again on the watersheds, and dams will be built to hold surplus water for use in times of drought, as is done in older countries. Your rivers then will be more serviceable in summer and less dangerous in the spring time.

Too Quick With Scorn.

That marvelous story of the British expedition to New Guinea, with its discovery of a new pygmy race, reminds a writer that in the past stay-at-home people have sometimes erred in treating travelers' tales with scorn. There was, for instance, the description by James Bruce in 1770 of the barbarous Abyssinian custom of eating raw meat cut from the living animal which was ridiculed by everybody.

Guide for Course in Life.

Parties, churches, clubs and all organizations have their uses, perhaps, but they are to be used and are not to be allowed to absorb us. The spirit in man is great and wonderful and above all that it has made and all that has been made for it. The more you love and study men and the more you discount institutions in forming your opinions the larger will be your heart.

Why Not Convince Yourself that You CAN?

We have made the statement that you can save money on your coffee without reducing the quality. We know this, as hundreds of our patrons are doing it. Golden Blend Coffee has always sold upon its merits. It's blended Just Right, it's roasted Just Right. It's fresh every week, and its flavor, richness, aroma, is Just Right. It is cup tested and suits the taste of 910ths of the people. It is a standard by which good coffee is judged.

Golden Blend Coffee costs but 23c a lb., yet most people in Janesville use it. If you have been paying more for your coffee than 28c, try a pound of Golden Blend this week. One pound for a trial doesn't mean much to you, yet it will prove its merits. If you now pay 30c or 35c for your coffee, you will save 2c to 7c each week. If you have been paying less, you will be surprised to find how much better coffee you can get for just a few cents more.

Golden Blend Coffee is made of the richest full grown and full flavored beans, scientifically blended to produce its peculiarly rich and fragrant flavor. It's all wholesome, pure, fully ripened coffee, properly roasted and received by us fresh in weekly shipments. The fact that we get it fresh every week is one reason why it is always good. Coffee bought in job lots may be one year old or five. It may be roasted properly one time and improperly the next. Its flavor varies, the quality varies, but in Golden Blend you get the same identical kind of coffee each week, roasted and blended in just the same way, and ITS QUALITY NEVER VARIES.

With each purchase at this store we give premium checks, which you may redeem for hundreds of articles. Hundreds of women save their checks from now until Christmas time and then get one or more gifts.

We sell other grades of coffee, as low as 20c a lb., and as high as 35c a lb., and each one is a better value than you get elsewhere, because we specialize on coffee, teas, spices, etc., and make it a point to see that our values are greater than elsewhere.

A Food and Drink Combined the Most Healthful of All

Our Pasteurized Milk is the purest, the sweetest, the most wholesome, and the safest milk in the city. Most people use it because of these facts. It's the safe milk for babies. It's rich, containing 4% butter fat, while the state requirements are that it must contain only 3%.

There Is More Nourishment In a Quart of Milk Than In a Pound of Beef Steak

You don't drink enough milk for your own good. You cannot drink too much; you should drink a quart a day. It will keep you in good health.

You Don't Eat Raw Meat Many People Use Raw Milk

Milk should be pasteurized. It makes it safer, it kills all germs. It's cleaner when pasteurized. Our milk is pasteurized, not commercially, but for purity and safety. It's delivered in sterilized bottles with air tight stoppers.

Stop your wagon today and give the man your order. Then you will know that you get rich milk, sweet milk and safe milk. Or phone the office.

THE THEATER

"Alma, Wo Wahnst Du?" ("Alma, Where Do You Live?") which comes to the Myers theatre, Tuesday, Oct. 18, matinee and evening, is an opera from the French of Paul Hervey, and adapted for the American stage by Adolf Philipp. He has so constructed the play that a knowledge of German is not at all necessary to its enjoyment. The music is by Jean Briquet, and Adolf Philipp, and it includes the famous "Alma, Wo Wahnst Du?" waltz, which has practically obliterated the "Merry Widow" waltz from the memories of theatre-going and music-loving New Yorkers. This waltz has a haunting melody, and it

The play is in three acts, and each is a gem in itself, both dramatically and musically. Clara Morena heads the organization and is capably assisted by a splendid supporting cast.

The play comes direct from a most remarkably successful engagement at the Whitney and Chicago opera house, Chicago, Ill.

Mr. Henry Woodruff's supporting company were most carefully selected by himself and watched for by the authors of the play. With the result that all are capable of presenting in such an artistic and finished manner that both press and public have pro-

SCENE FROM "ALMA, WO WAHNST DU?" AT THE MYERS TUESDAY is no simple thing to one without any desire to lose it. It is being sung, whistled, hummed and played every where in America, alike by young boys and dear old ladies who first attended musical plays half a century ago. It fascinates everyone. Yes, "Alma" is one of the most popular heroines on the stage today, and everyone asks her "Where Do You Live?" The answer quite naturally, thanks to her beauty, charm and fascinating qualities. There are other songs in the little opera that take one captive, notably "Der Schwartzkater," ("The Black Cat") and "Woher? Woher?" ("Where? Where?").

KILLS TWO MEMBERS OF POSSE.

Unidentified Negro Is Slain After He Shoots Six Men.

Huntington, W. Va., Oct. 15.—After fatally wounding Special Agent G. A. Lantz of the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad and killing Policeman Charles Hale and Daniel Bliss, an unidentified negro was himself shot by a posse in the hills back of this city.

W. W. Lowe and Charles Stuart, policemen, were both shot in the head and are thought to be dying. Will Hutchison, another member of the posse, was wounded in the arm. The negro was killed by Chief of Police Chinglasped.

DEFAULTING BANKER IS JAILED.

Hugh A. Burrell of Brownstown, Ind., Captured in Oklahoma.

Brownstown, Ind., Oct. 15.—Word has been received here that Hugh A. Burrell, the defaulting president of the Peoples' State bank, which failed here in August, 1907, has been captured and is now in jail at Oklahoma City, Okla.

The bank was one of the strongest in the county and had deposits of over $200,000. Burrell was charged with being a forger and a gambler and heavy loser in bucket shops. The bank never resumed business.

WOMEN'S MAGAZINES TO STOP.

Lewis Publishing Company to Discontinue All But National Daily.

St. Louis, Oct. 15.—E. G. Lewis, president of the Lewis Publishing company, publishers of the Woman's National Daily, Woman's Magazine and other monthly publications, at St. Louis, announced that publication of all except the Woman's National Daily will shortly be discontinued, says the St. Louis Daily Star, published by Lewis. Increase in the quality and cost of magazines with a decrease in selling price is given as a reason.

Ships Given $1,822,000 Subsidy.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 15.—Subsidies to steamship companies, as contained in the budget estimate for 1911, amount to $1,822,000, of which $802,000 goes to the volunteer fleet maintaining lines to American and far eastern ports.

Free Thought Congress Opened.

Barecelona, Oct. 15.—The international free thought congress opened peacefully, but the police forbade a midnight reunion, at which the leaders had planned to attack the government.

WAVE OF CRIME AT DANVILLE.

Twelve Hours Drings Unenviable Record of Crime in Illinois City.

Danville, Ill., Oct. 15.—A murder and suicide, three suicides, an attempted murder and two unsuccessful attempts at suicide within twelve hours is Danville's record.

Two deaths by scalding began the cycle of fatalities, and shortly afterward Anna M. Daniel fired two shots into the body of her husband and then turned the revolver on herself, sending two bullets into her heart, dying almost instantly.

Less than three hours later E. A. Rogers fired four shots at his wife and child because his meal was not ready when he returned home from work. Rogers is in jail.

William Mullins, a wealthy retired farmer, hanged himself in the barn at his home, using a rope halter.

Ora Brown and William Miller also attempted suicide, according to reports, and as a fitting climax to a day of fatalities George W. Whyte, for twenty years a member of the bar, at one time county judge, cut his throat at his home.

CONSIDER WHITE SLAVE TRADE.

Purity Congress Meets and Arthur Burrage Farwell Talks.

San Francisco, Oct. 15.—A congress of the American Purity Federation convened here, the first subject to be considered being the white slave trade. Addresses were delivered by Arthur Burrage Farwell of Chicago, E. M. Whittemore of New York and others.

States Offer Great Water Power.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 15.—Oregon and Washington contain one-third of the available water power energy in the United States and between 5,000,000 and 7,000,000 horsepower can be harnessed in the two states, according to Fred F. Henshaw, hydrographer of the geological survey.

All Scientific.

"We are all more or less scientific," once declared Mme. Curie, who was recently awarded the Albert medal of the Royal Society of Arts for the discovery of radium. "The boy who wants to know what makes the wheel go round is the embryo discoverer of some new force. Inquisitiveness is an essential to scientific research." As a child Mme. Curie was inquisitive, and on more than one occasion she ran narrow escapes of blowing herself and her father's house and laboratory to bits in making experiments. Instead of playing with her dolls, she found greatest happiness in watching her father at work. Ultimately she went to Paris, and there met Pierre Curie, and together they made the great discovery of radium.

Slaughter of Birds.

H. R. Walmesley of the Missouri Audubon society, of Missouri, declares that the slaughter of birds has cost the United States over $800,000,000. He says the English sparrow is the only bird that is of no value to the farmer.

Shall Janesville's Streets Be Lighted With Gas Or Otherwise?

We Offer the Following Advantages For Street Gas Lighting:

The largest cities of the world use gas for ornamental street lighting.

The smaller cities throughout the United States use gas for ornamental street lighting.

The number of candle power per light will not diminish if gas is used for street lighting. It can be increased at any time.

Gas light makes the whitest and brightest street light.

Electric storms do not effect street gas lights. They never go out.

Street Gas Light is the Cheapest

Street gas light posts are as ornamental as any.

Street gas light gives the most practical distribution.

Street gas light is always at its highest efficiency, always even. It never varies; not bright one minute and dim the next.

BIG AVIATION MEET AT NEW YORK CITY

Will Open Next Week—International Balloon Race Out of St. Louis—
Other Coming Events.

(SPECIAL TO THE CAZETTE.)
Washington, D. C., Oct. 15—Rhode Island Republicans will assemble in state convention Wednesday and re-nominate Aram J. Porthor for Governor, thus completing the list of gubernatorial candidates of the two leading parties to be voted for in the various states next month.

From now on the state and congress-sional campaigns will be waged with increased intensity throughout the country. The progress of the contests in New York, Ohio and other states in which the results will be of national interest will be followed with close attention.

Colonel Roosevelt will leave his home in Oyster Bay for the middle of the week for a brief trip into New England speaking in behalf of Senator Lodge's candidacy for re-election and in New Hampshire for Robert P.
Hass, the Republican candidate for Governor.

William J. Bryan will stump Indiana the first three days of the week in behalf of the Democratic state ticket.
Thursday and Friday he will spend in the Eighteenth Congressional District of Illinois speaking against Speaker Cannon.

The interest of all followers of baseball will be riveted on the world's championship between the Chicago National League team and the Philadelphia team of the American League.
The opening game is scheduled to be played in Philadelphia Monday.

Two notable events in the field of aeronautics are on the calendar of the week. The first will be the international balloon race for the Gordon-Bennet trophy, which is scheduled to start Tuesday from St. Louis. The second event will be the international aviation meet at Belmont Park race track, outside New York City, in which the contestants will include many of the foremost aviators of America and Europe.

Of interest on both sides of the Atlantic will be the launching of the mammoth steamship Olympic, of the White Star Line, which is fixed to take place Thursday at the yards of her builders in Belfast. The Olympic is designed to be the largest and most luxurious steamship afloat, having a gross tonnage of sixty thousand tons.

Veterans of the Blue and the Gray will unite in exercises in the Vicksburg National Military Park on Wednesday, when the memorial erected by the State of Wisconsin to her soldiers who fought and fell in the Siege of Vicksburg will be dedicated with impressive ceremonies.

The opening of the National Dairy Show in Chicago, advertised as one of the largest exhibitions of its kind ever held in America, and the assembling of the Lako Mohawk Conference of Friends of the Indian and Other Dependent People will also figure in the news of the week.

Railway at Anchor, Texas.

Work as a Panacea.

I consider work one of the greatest blessings. I am not sure but that it is the greatest blessing. Says Brian J.
Hickway in the Outlook. I must think it is, for I recall now that I wrote four injunctions in my boy's birth book, and work heads the list.
Work keeps the body healthy, the mind steady. When the heart is sick —work. When hope is dim—work.
After failures, get up and work. Go at obstacles on the run. Tackle im-possibilities hard. Measure today by last year, five years ago. If failing, do; work. If losing, too bad! work harder. Be glad that you have work to do. And if you haven't any definite work, find it quick and get at it. If you have done your work and earned decently, and are not worn out, don't rest out. Travel; study; go in for community work; lend a hand; help somebody somewhere, somehow. That is living.

Robbed of Distinction.

Mary and her brother Albert had been ill for several days. Their grandmother, in telling a friend who called about their illness said that Mary had some fever, but that Albert had none.
After the friend had gone Albert, who had overheard the conversation, said in a tearful voice: "Grandmother, how would you like it if you were ill and someone said you had no fever?"

Lived in the Wrong House.
A curious legal tangle has resulted from the mistake of a tenant who moved into the wrong house in a New York suburb. It stood next the one he had taken, and seemed to correspond better to the description, and neither house bore a number. For ten months he sent the money regularly to the landlord of the empty house, before the landlord of the one he was in discovered his presence and demanded ten months' back rent. The tenant refuses to pay unless his own landlord refunds, and this has been refused on the score that the empty house might have been rented.

Staring at Royalty.

Royalties are early cured of any shyness of being looked at. They are there to be seen, and both the king and queen when they go to the opera and turn their glasses on the occupants of opposite boxes are openly gazed by the disconcerted looks of persons who feel abashed under the inspection.
Not a trace of self-consciousness is left on the face of an English royalty, with the exception of perhaps a single princess under an artillery of glances.
Such attentions are anything but resented. Indeed, the beautiful Duchess of Devonshire used to say that when the butcher boy ceased to turn round after her in the street she would know her reign was over.—London Chronicle.

Didn't Agree With Him.

"Yes; dad's high on to ninety," was the reply.

"Is his health good?"
"Well, no. The old man ain't been labeled for some time back."
"What seems to be the matter?"
"I dunno, sir. I guess farming don't agree with him no more."—Success

October 19th
Fur Opening

J.M. BOSTWICK & SONS.

October 19th
Fur Opening

For One Day Only, Wednesday, October 19th, We Will Allow 10 Per Cent Off On All Furs

The agent of a leading fur manufacturer will be in our store with a large line of the best styles of furs of all descriptions. While all of the leading furs will be shown in a large variety, a specialty will be made of fine mink furs. These, as most women know, are very scarce and much higher in price than formerly. Any lady contemplating a purchase of any garment made of mink should be sure to see this fine assortment as you may not have an opportunity to select from such a line again this season. We will be prepared to take special orders. It will afford a good chance to figure on something nice in a fur coat. All prices will be very moderate.

In this connection we wish to emphasize our own stock of Fur Scarfs, Throws, Muffs, Coats, etc.

It is one of the most carefully selected and reliable lines of fur garments to be found anywhere. It is really complete.
You can judge from what you have to select from the following lists, which we show in a range of prices to meet almost any requirement. Study this.

- Coneys in brown and black.
- Opposums in brown, black, blue and steel gray.
- Belgian Hare in black, silver tipped and mink dyed.
- Fox and Sable, black, blue, Isabella, natural gray, white
- Iceland, Alaska, Sitka, pointed fox.
- American Baum Marten.
- Black Wolf, lynx dyed.
- Natural lynx.
- Black lynx.
- Marten, the genuine American brown Marten.
- Opossum, marten dyed.
- Raccoon in sable, black and cinnamon.
- Minks, genuine minks.
- Jap Mink and River Mink.
- Seals, Hudson Seals and Near Seals.
- Persian Lamb and Black Astrachen.
- Beaver.
- Otter.
- Chinchilla.
- Squirrel, both blended and natural.

We make a specialty of complete sets and show them.
All of the above skins are prepared to furnish the scarfs in any desired size with muff to match. This you cannot do at the average store. The scarfs are pellerines, shawl styles with head effect and Victorines. The shaped scarfs are entirely new this year. Shapes never before shown. The muffs are large, square pillow, the half barrel, the full barrel and the long narrow round muffs. We show every novelty good for this season. We also have a most complete line of children's furs in all the leading styles.

FUR COATS

Pony skin coats are very scarce and hard to get. We carry a full line, however, of black Russian Pony fur coats in all sizes, 14 misses to 42 ladies. We also show Pony in the natural color.

Near Seals in ¾ and full lengths, 52-inch coats in all sizes, 36 to 44.

We have French Pony coats in black and brown. These coats are long and full lengths and especially desirable for driving and autoing. Size, 36 to 42.

Every Fur in this Store is Marked in Plain Figures

We give a great deal of attention to the buying of our furs and every piece is thoroughly examined upon receipt.
Anything not up to our standards is promptly returned to manufacturer. We buy furs early which gives us an opportunity to get them in and examine them and nothing goes into the stock that is at all doubtful as to style, quality and workmanship. The immense quantity of furs that it takes to supply the demand on THE BIG STORE means the very lowest rock bottom prices. We buy direct from the largest manufacturers so that our furs are practically made for us. There is no man in between to make a profit before we get them.
Buying on this basis is why we can give such unusually good qualities for the prices. Hundreds of people have learned this and feel that when they come to us for furs, they get the best. By buying furs at THE BIG STORE you are doubly protecting yourself as we buy from reliable furriers who think as much of their reputation as we do of ours. Inferior furs are about as poor an investment as anyone can make.

Bear in mind that as an especial inducement we will allow a discount of 10 per cent off from all of the Furs sold Wednesday, October 19th

Women who are not quite ready to buy, may select any piece and have it laid aside by making a cash deposit.

GAVE LECTURE AT MYERS THEATRE

WILLIS F. GROSS OF BOSTON EXPLAINED CHRISTIAN SCIENCE.

THE GOSPEL OF SALVATION

Speaker is a Member of the Board of Lectureship of the First Church of Christ in Boston.

Christian Science, the gospel of salvation, was the subject of an interesting lecture last evening at the Myers theatre by Willis F. Gross, C. S., a member of the board of lecturers of the Mother church, the First Church of Christ in Boston, Mass. Mr. Gross is an excellent speaker and his delivery was unusually good and clearly heard in all parts of the theatre. He said in part:

"Men are no longer satisfied with that conception of God which gives merely a reasonable assurance of a heaven beyond the grave to those who are found worthy. They desire to know God as a present help in every time of need, if it is possible thus to know Him. They are asking for present proof that they are solving life's problems aright and have not labored in vain.

"There is no mystery in Christian Science save the mystery which surrounds everything which is not understood. Christian Science can be understood, and when it is understood, it brings healing to the sick, comfort to the sorrowing, and strength and courage in the hour of trial and temptation.

"Christian Science teaches that the seeker for truth must start with the true conception of God. The mortal, material world must be left out of consideration, for 'the natural man receiveth not the things of the spirit of God; for they are foolishness unto him; neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned.' If God, Spirit, is the starting point and reasoning is along scientific lines, no other conclusion can be reached than that of a spiritually perfect universe and a God-like man. If one's ideal is a man-like God, there is little hope of heaven on earth and there is an honest doubt as to what the future has in store, but if one is striving to become a God-like man, not only the future but the present is enriched by the presence and power of divine love.

"There may be those who believe it is presuming too much to say there are people living today who can heal the sick in the same manner as Jesus and the apostles healed. It should be understood that the advocates of Christian healing claim no more for themselves than they affirm to be the divine right of all mankind. The law of spiritual healing is co-operative. Whoever understands and obeys this law can apply it and when it is rightly applied the results are sure. If it were claimed to be the privilege of the few to know God as the healer of sickness, the charge of presumption might not be without foundation, but since it is claimed that all may know the truth which heals physically and morally, this charge is left without any basis.

"If Christians today profess to believe in and worship only the true God; if they pray to this God and He answers their prayers; if He forgives their sins and lifts their burdens; if He is their all-sufficient help in time of temptation and trial; if He recognizes that He also answers their prayers in behalf of others—if God does all this for those who trust Him, why should it seem unreasonable, or inconsistent, for professed Christians to go a step further and recognize God as the healer of their diseases? Christian Science does not claim too much when it asserts that God is man's all-sufficient help in every time of need, and the individual is not claiming too much for himself when he trusts God and relies on Him at all times. There is abundant scriptural authority for this position, and Christian Science teaches no doctrine that is not based upon the spiritual interpretation of the inspired word.

"The speaker then took up the Master and His teachings, told his hearers that truth was eternal, and explained how Christian Science was discovered by Mrs. Eddy through a spiritual understanding of the scriptures. The basis of the church's teaching, he said, was the first commandment: 'Thou shalt have no other Gods before Me.' The speaker then took Mrs. Eddy's relation to God, saying:

"The man that was made in God's image and likeness has no existence apart from his Creator. God is his mind, his life, and the very substance of his being. Sin, sickness and death are mortal experiences. They are the outgrowth of the false belief that man has intelligence and life apart from God. The one unfailing remedy for all this is to understand that there is but one Cause and Creator, and that man cannot be separated from the divine principle of his being.

"No one doubts that the world's greatest teachers understood man's relation to God. It was this understanding which enabled him to speak with authority and prove the truth of his words by the might of his deeds. The clear discernment of the fact that the harmonious relationship existing between God and man remains forever the same, enabled the Master to cast out devils, heal all manner of diseases, and even raise the dead.

"The line of demarcation between man, God's material sense of man, is sharply drawn in Christian Science, and it is why Christian Science is found so effective in destroying sin and healing sickness. When it is declared that man is neither a sinner, nor an invalid; that God's image and likeness is referred to, sin and sickness belong not to man, but to the false concept of man. In proportion, as the true sense of man's being is gained, the false sense, and all that belongs thereto, is put off.

"Christian Science teaches that sickness is no more the reality of man's being than sin is and that the same power that destroys sin, heals sickness as well. Sin is no part of divine nature, neither does it belong to the true consciousness of mortal mind, or the manifestation of mortal mind, or the carnal mind. As Paul terms it, 'Mortal mind' is but a mind for a reality; there is but one mind and this mind is infinite. Mortal mind, standing before the better of God, is but a false belief of the mortal mind.

"Sickness is no more supported by the divine mind than sin is. When the thought of sin is destroyed in mortal mind, sin does not find expression in word or in deed; likewise when the thought of sickness is destroyed in mortal mind, sickness does not find expression in word or in deed. Sickness will not appear on the body.

"The purpose of prayer," he said, "was the healing word of Christian Science is accomplished 'through prayer'—the prayer of spiritual understanding. Meditation, hypnosis, suggestion, etc., are all different phases of the belief that one mortal mind can, consciously or unconsciously, exert an influence over another mortal mind. These errors have no place in Christian Science. The basis of Christian Science practice is, one Mind and that God; one power and that good; one influence and that the influence of divine love.

"Christian Science imparts a more correct thought of God and consequently a truer sense of the purpose and motive of prayer. It increases man's faith in God and it is found that prayer becomes more effective. The purpose of prayer is not to inform or influence God, but to bring humanity into accord with the divine principle of all that really exists. What God knows is true, what God does is good, and what He wills is inevitable. When then is mortal man that should seek to change or influence God? 'The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much' because it is in harmony with the unchanging law of God.

"Christianity as Jesus taught it, is effective, being effective, it is practical, and the law of every man to find in the experience of every man to find in the truth and power, Christian Science appeals to immortality because it presents the practical side of the Christian religion and supplies a long-felt need. Christianity is not rightly apprehended until it becomes practical. Christianity is not a matter of faith merely, for the scriptures declare that 'faith without works is dead.'

NORTHERN COUNTRY CHARM VISITORS

Janesville Men Return From the Manitoba Country Enthusiastic Over the Crops.

Ira Fisher and Frank Snyder of this city have recently returned from an extended trip into the country around Winnipeg, Manitoba, and also around Dolphin Lake which is some two hundred miles north of Winnipeg, bringing back interesting accounts of the beauty and prosperity of that northern country.

Winnipeg is the metropolis of this region and is a city of 100,000 people with many miles of beautiful drives and paved streets. The city is booming at present as is shown by the fact that over $10,000,000 worth of building permits were issued this year, of which two and one-half million dollars were for apartment blocks or flats. The city is well supplied with parks in which are to be found some of the native animals, elegant drives and although late in the season beds of flowers in full bloom were abundant.

The country around Dolphin Lake, which was visited after leaving Winnipeg, is thirty-six miles from a railroad and is in the heart of the northwest. Although so far north all the common grains and vegetables are raised with the most promising results. The country is new, many acres being under the plow for the first time but the yields which this fertile soil return are astounding. A patch of potatoes covering nine square rods yielded 40 bushels of potatoes, which is at the rate of 720 bushels per acre. Other vegetables grow to extraordinary size and give corresponding ratios of production. In spite of northern latitude the climate at this time of the year is reported to be very pleasant, almost equal to our own rainy days.

On their return trip Mr. Fisher and Mr. Snyder passed through the region in Minnesota which has recently been devastated by forest fires. They rode for six hours in smoke which arose from those terrible conflagrations. It was impossible to see any distance and the train had to proceed slowly in consequence. Heat which came from the fires was most oppressive and the remains of timber, buildings and villages could be seen. The experience brought the realization of the awful nature of those fires, which sweep miles and miles of country leaving ruin and destruction everywhere in its wake.

JIMMIE M'VEY IN JAIL FOR ASSAULT

Sentenced at Rockford in Police Court for Committing an Unnatural Crime.

Charged with committing an unnatural crime, James McVey, better known as 'Jimmie,' who at one time stayed in Janesville, is in jail at Rockford, having been unable to pay a fine of $100.85 for committing the crime. McVey, who has been arrested here for drunkenness, had been working as a general assistant at the Smith & Wesson Co. in Rockford and was sleeping nights in the barn. Recently Harry Turner, a sixteen year old youth, went to work in the barn, and was given a sleeping place in the loft. On Saturday last McVey is alleged to have assaulted the boy. In police court McVey told the judge that he had been boxing instructor at the Janesville high school, but his position as such existed only in his own mind, as boxing is not included in the work required at the local school.

FRED E. JANVRIN IS NOT GUILTY

VERDICT RETURNED AT 3:10 THIS MORNING.

JURORS, OUT EIGHT HOURS

Accused and His Wife Broke Down and Wept After the Long Hard Strain—End of Sensational Case.

After deliberations lasting nearly eight hours, the jury trying the crime last case against Frederick E. Janvrin of Deloit returned a verdict of 'not guilty' shortly after three o'clock this morning. The charges of murder in the second degree and murder in the third degree were founded on the shooting of John Hayes on the night of March 30 and the action had been vigorously prosecuted before Judge Grimm in the circuit court and as resolutely defended since Tuesday last.

Strong Closing Argument. Attorney O. A. Onstreich made a strong appeal for conviction in his closing argument for the State. He declared that the evidence against Janvrin was conclusive; that he had been clearly shown that he not only did not arrest Hayes but would have had no warrant for so doing; characterized as utterly absurdly the attempt to make it appear that the wounds which Hayes received might not have been the direct cause of death; analyzed Mr. Jeffris' argument and found it in the main an appeal to sympathy, pure and simple; and declared that instead of the State's juggling with the case, as Mr. Jeffris had charged it was the defense which had done so from start to finish.

Charge to the Jury. Judge Grimm's charge to the jury thoroughly covered the law involved in the case and was concluded at 5:15 o'clock. The jurors went to supper at the Hotel Stevens and returned to the jury room shortly before seven o'clock. Shortly before eight o'clock the jury, through its foreman, E. E. Gabriel of Evansville, communicated with Judge Grimm, asking that the instructions regarding manslaughter in the third degree which carries with it a penalty of from two to four years in prison, be read again. This was done and the twelve men returned to their deliberations. There was a rap on the door at 2:15 this morning and Foreman Gabriel asked Bailiff Floyd Carter to transmit to the court and interested parties that a verdict had been reached.

Broke Down and Wept. Judge Grimm, District Attorney J. L. Fisher, Attorney M. O. Mount, Sheriff Schellert, Clerk of Court Jesse Farle, Tom Hayes, a brother of the man whom Janvrin shot, Janvrin and his wife, and some of the newspaper reporters were in the court room when the jurors filed into the box at 3:10 this morning. The accused and his wife after the verdict was announced, both broke down and wept. Afterwards they shook hands with every juror, with Judge Grimm, and with Attorney Mount expressing to each one their heartfelt gratitude. And just before midnight, the curtain fell on the Janvrin case which has received the most undivided attention of a great many people besides the jury for nearly a week.

YOUTHFUL SOLDIERS PASS THROUGH CITY

Detachment of the Balloon Destroyer Corps of Northwestern Military College Had Supper Here

Armed to the teeth, driving two high-powered autos equipped with two automatic Colt guns, the balloon destroyer squad of the Northwestern Military Academy of Highland Park, Ill., passed through Janesville last evening on their week-end experimental run. The party was in charge of Major Davidson of the school staff, were garbed in the regular army uniforms and their ears were equipped with 'pop' tents, a cooking outfit and all camp necessities. With the party stopped here for supper they continued their journey immediately after supper and made camp some miles north of the city on the Madison road which is their destination. Major Davidson stated the purpose of the trip was to accustom the boys to actual camp life conditions and what they might expect on a forced march if true soldiers. The school is now camped at Lake Geneva and the boys live in tents, study out of doors, and those that stand well in their classes during the week are chosen for the week-end trips. In the party last night were Capt. Gould of Indianapolis, Sergeant Kenneth of Chicago, Sergeant Mayer of Chicago, Cadets Brock of Chicago, Corporal Zwick of Rockford, Cadet Sten of Chicago and Cadet 'Hoyling' of Chicago. While at Lake Geneva the school is conducted in a naval training department. During the past summer army minutemen a squad from the school took part, acting as the balloon destroying department, chasing big paper balloons through the country and shooting at them with the Colt guns the autos are equipped with.

Shumbaugh, superintendent of the Iowa State Historical society and professor of political science at the University of Iowa.

PECULIAR INCIDENT REGARDING THIEVES

While High School and Public Library Here Were Looted Same Thing Occurred in Madison.

It is a peculiar circumstance that while thieves were at work in Janesville entering the Janesville high school and the Carnegie library, the same thing occurred in Madison, although there the thieves secured much more than they did here. At the high school they secured $20 and twenty cents was taken from the library. It may be possible that the Janesville thieves were members of a gang that were working the country generally.

When Rubber Was a Plaything. When rubber was first discovered it was a plaything. The discovery was made during Columbus' second voyage, when Herrera found that the natives of Hayti played a game with balls 'made of the gum of a tree.'

Even as early as the beginning of the seventeenth century, however, the Spaniards used rubber to waterproof their cloaks, but the fact attracted no attention in the old world, and it was not until the eighteenth century that the rubber industry began. Very early in history there was an extract from rubber which was taken medicinally with cocoa.

Value of the Poet. "The great poets have done so much to make life easier," said the earnest young woman. "That's right," replied Mr. Chumox; "if it weren't for the great poets we'd be stamped many a time for something to write in an autograph album."

The Highest Gift. Words, money, all things that are comparatively easy to give away; but when a man makes a gift of his dirty life and practice, it is the highest gift, whatever it may be, that has taken possession of him.—James Russell Lowell.

NEW BRASS BEDS NEW IRON BEDS

In anticipating fall housecleaning, this week is a splendid time to discuss the matter of the Brass Beds and the Iron Beds you intend to use either in your own sleeping room or the spare rooms of your home. We don't know that we have anything special to say of our new lines of brass beds other than they are represented by the very best beds that it is possible for brass workers to make. They are of that high quality that enables us to say that "If it comes from Ashcraft's it must be good."

In selecting our brass beds we got away from garishness as far as possible. Be believe most people like simplicity, and where richness is desired simplicity is its best aid. This is true of anything—in a greater degree, however, with brass beds. Beds from $2.50 to $80.00.

That Little Hacking Cough

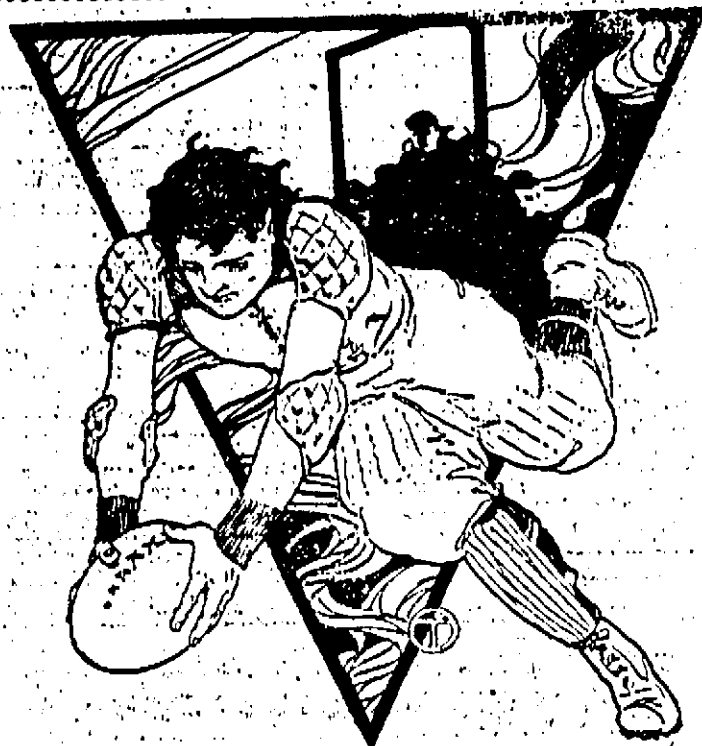

Hard coughs are bad enough, to be sure. But it's often the little, hacking, tickling, persistent cough that means the most, especially when there is a history of weak lungs in the family. What should be done? Ask your doctor. He knows. Ask him about the formula on the label of every bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Ask him if this medicine has his full approval for throat and lung troubles. Then do as he says.

The greatest value to be obtained from continuous publicity should be fully understood by every advertiser.

Continuous advertising is essential—because.

Repetition builds reputation; convinces as to faith in self and merchandise.

It establishes in the public mind the idea of permanency and provides against the "out of sight, out of mind."

It fortifies against competition, open or hidden; breaks down indifference and opens the way to intimacy.

Repeated assertion, unchallenged, is accepted as truth.

Regularity creates and takes advantage of subconscious effect on the mind produced through the eye.

Continuous publicity is reputation continuously on the move.

If your advertising appropriation is limited take but one fold, The Daily Gazette Readers, and appeal to them. Most everybody in this field reads The Gazette.

I don't know which of us three was the most startled by that simple question in Betty Graham's voice. Sam, at all events, showed the least surprise. The old colonel wheeled toward the back of the store, his jaw dropping and his eyes protruding as though he were confronted with a ghost—no, in a way, he was. Even I had been struck by that strange, heartrending similarity to her mother's tone, and even I trembled a little to hear that voice, as it seemed, from beyond the grave.

Betty stood at the foot of the stairs, alarmed by the noise of the colonel's railing, she had stolen down, unheeded by any of us. And in that moment I realized as never before that the girl had more of her mother

"One day, when my boy was five years old, I noticed a sore on the top of his head. I was alarmed, so I called in Dr. — and he said it was eczema. After treating it for a week it spread all over his head, and he said it was ringworm. He said the boy was a bad case of ringworm and recommended a course of Cuticura. We got Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment and he used them. He gave our boy immediate relief with the first application and in six weeks the boy was well and had a growth of hair. Now he is fourteen and has a head of hair like his father's. "Then an old druggist named — said, 'Why don't you take him to the — hospital, as they have cured a young lady with the Cuticura remedy?' But they said the young lady's case had been different, so we decided to try the Cuticura Remedies ourselves. We got Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment and he used them. Abruptly she moved swiftly to her father's side and slipped her hand into his. "What is it, father?" she repeated, crying Colonel Bohun coldly.

"Why, Betty," he said, tremulous—"why, Betty, your grandfather here has been kind enough to offer to take you and educate you and make a lady of you, and—"

"Do you mean that?" she sang at Bohun.

He straightened up and held himself well in hand. "Is it the first you have heard of it?"

"Yes," she looked inquiringly at her father.

"Why didn't you tell her?" Bohun persisted harshly. "Were you afraid?"

"No," Sam shook his head slowly. "I wasn't afraid, but it was unnecessary. You see, Betty, Colonel Bohun is willing to do all this for you on several conditions. You must leave me and never see me again. You mustn't even recognize me should we meet upon the street. You must change your name to Bohun and never permit yourself to be known as Betty Graham. Then you must—"

"Sever mind, daddy, dear," said this girl. "That is enough. I know now. I understand why you never told me. It's impossible. Colonel Bohun knew that when he made the offer, of course. He made it simply to harass you, daddy. It's his revenge."

"And that's your answer, miss?" snapped the colonel, livid with wrath.

"I would not," she told him slowly, "accept a favor from you, sir, if I were starving."

Bohun drew himself up. "Then starve," he told her and walked out of the shop.

CHAPTER VI.

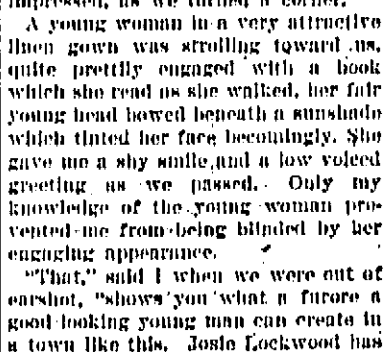

ON my way back from my walk I came across Duncann sitting on the wall of the bridge. I introduced myself to him, and we walked along together. Finally I asked him the reason for his presence in the town.

"I'm reading law, Mr. Littlejohn; that I shall continue. In the meantime I shall keep my eyes open for a job," he answered. "At any day, at any moment, the opportunity may present itself, the opportunity I'm looking for."

"Probably you're right," I assented, impressed, as we turned a corner.

A young woman in a very attractive then gown was strolling toward us, quite prettily engaged with a book which she read as she walked, her fair young head bowed beneath a sunshade which tinted her face becomingly. She gave me a shy smile, and a low voiced greeting as we passed. Only my knowledge of the young woman prevented me from being blinded by her engaging appearance.

"That," said I when we were out of earshot, "shows you what a future a good looking young man can create in a town like this. Josie Lockwood has put on her best bib and tucker to go walking in this afternoon on the off chance of meeting you, Mr. Duncann. "Hattery note?" he commented. "Who's Josie Lockwood?"

"Daughter of Blinky Lockwood, the richest man in Radville."

"Ah!" he said cryptically.

I managed to hear much of Mr. Duncann while I myself was engaged in formulating an estimate of the young man. He left the hotel and took modest accommodations at the house of Betty Carpenter. He engaged the popular imagination no less than mine own, although I was more intimately associated with him as a fellow resident at Betty Carpenter's. My professional duties making their habitual demands upon my time, I saw, it may be, less of him than many of our people. Certainly I learned less of his ways from first hand knowledge. But from my desk—it's the nearest to the window right above the postoffice door—I was enabled to keep a pretty close track upon his habits and movements during the first fortnight of his stay in Radville.

SUGGESTIVE QUESTIONS

The Last Judgment. Matt. xxv:31-46. Golden Text. Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these My brethren, ye have done it unto Me. Matt. xxv:40.

Verses 31-32—Are these words of Jesus to be taken as a parable, that is figurative, or literally? Why?

When will be the day of judgment? How long will it probably take to render judgment upon all the people that have ever lived?

Verses 32-33—Where at the present time are all the bad people, and all the good people, that have died since the birth of the human race?

By what rule, or law, will the separation of the bad from the good be made?

Will a man's orthodoxy have any weight with the Judge in that great day? Why?

Will a man's heterodoxy, if he has been ruled by the law of love, in any way prejudice the Judge at the judgment day?

Why may we hope that many, who have never heard of Christ among the heathen, will be found among the sheep at the judgment?

Verses 34-35—What is the nature of the kingdom which God has prepared for his children?

The sequence of cause and effect is relentless; for example poison kills, like begets like, sin produces suffering, etc. In what sense is this law the explanation of the statement, "the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world?"

Verses 35-36—If the "kingdom of heaven" is righteousness, peace and joy in the Holy Ghost, do all those necessarily inherit that kingdom who are loving and kind to everybody? Why?

Why is it impossible for a selfish man to inherit the kingdom of heaven?

Verses 37-40—Why does Jesus take an act of kindness done to a fellow man, as done to himself?

From the standard here given what is the most important work that a church, or an individual, can be engaged in, and why? (The question must be answered in writing by members of the club.)

Should the church have the same zeal, and the same compact organization, for caring for the poor, comforting the sick, and making glad the sad, as she has for missionary work? Why or why not?

Verses 41-46—What does the expression, "everlasting fire" stand for here? Is the punishment of the wicked everlasting, because God would not be willing to forgive in this future state, or because the character of the wicked is fixed, having no desire for forgiveness, or for both those reasons?

Without any formal sentences, why is not a stingy, hard-hearted, clean-fisted, cruel man, who pays no heed to the pitiful cry of suffering around him, necessarily in an eternal hell?

Why does the identification of Jesus with his people really make them one with him?

Absolutely smokeless and odorless you do not have to work close to the stove, which is usually far from the window. You can work where you wish, and be warm. You can work on dull winter days in the full light near the window, without being chilled to the bone.

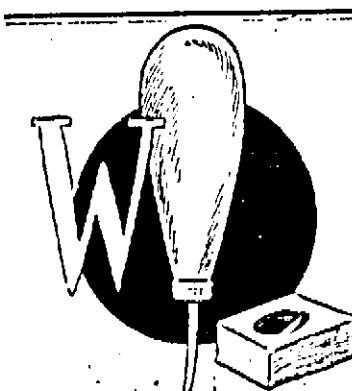

The Perfection Oil Heater quickly gives heat, and with one filling of the stove, which is usually far from the window. You can work where you wish, and be warm. You can work on dull winter days in the full light near the window, without being chilled to the bone.

The Perfection Oil Heater has an automatic-locking flame spreader, which prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back, so the wick can be quickly cleaned. The burner body or gallery cannot become wedged and can be unscrewed in an instant for reworking. The Perfection Oil Heater is finished in Japan or nickel, is strong, durable, well-made, built for service, and yet light and ornamental.

CONDITIONS OF DISEASE DEVELOPMENT.

The conditions necessary for the development of disease-producing germs are, decaying matter, moderate temperature, moisture and absence of direct sunlight, with access of air laden with dust particles, which are constant carriers of germ life, especially in cities. The mouth usually contains small particles of food, held by the teeth, and, with the other conditions most favorable, is a constant source of infection. When the condition of the blood is such as to develop pneumonia, lowered resistance through overwork and mental depression, and perhaps chill, provide the soil for the rapid development of the germ. The essential condition for the development of pneumonia, consumption or other germ disease is, however, the condition of the blood and the state of vital resistance which is dependent upon the blood. And as the blood is made from food under the influence of thought, which controls function, the selection and assimilation of food are important as means of prevention.
